HOPE NEARLY GONE FOR SEVEN CUT OFF BY MINE EXPLOSION

Rescue Crews Have Hundreds of Feet to Clear Before They Can Reach Miners Entombed in Nova Scotia Colliery Working—Nearly Two Hundred Reach Safety

STELLARTON, N.S., April 16 (CP).—Hope for the lives of seven coal miners wanted with the passing hours tonight as rescue crews worked vainly to reach the spot where an explosion entombed them a quarter of a mile underground in the Acadia Coal Company's Allan shaft.

No signal came from the darkness behind a solid barrier of fallen coal and stone to indicate that the trapped seven still lived. And the fear was growing that none would be found alive when fellow-workers finally break through.

LONG WAY TO GO
Rescuers were making slow progress in the cramped passageway, and tonight they were still between 600 and 800 feet from the spot where the seven were believed working when the explosion roared out this morning.

The miners estimated they would not know until some time tomorrow, at the earliest, whether the seven were alive. And it might take days for them to clear away a passage to the men.

If they survived the explosion, it was held likely that deathly "after damp," which follows an explosion of "fire damp" in the coal mines, would have claimed their lives. Ventilation was shut off by the fall of hundreds of tons of material, and

King George's Silver Jubilee Celebration Programme Announced

May 6, the Silver Jubilee of His Majesty King George V, will be celebrated here in regal style. Mayor David Leeming has invited mayors of Port Angeles, Seattle, Tacoma, Everett, Olympia, Spokane, Bellingham, Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles to take part in the festivities.

Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, Lieutenant-Governor, in the forenoon will present Silver Jubilee medals to meritorious citizens during a ceremony at the Parliament Buildings. Commencing May 4, a three-day Victoria Jubilee handicap golf tournament will be held at the Royal Colwood golf course, with a number of entrants from Vancouver and Seattle. Following a state dinner at Government House, a Jubilee Cabaret Ball will take place at the Empress Hotel from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. Patrons will include the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Fordham Johnson, Premier T. D. Pattullo, Mayor David Leeming and Mrs. Leeming, Commander G. C. Jones and Mrs. Jones and Major-General E. C. Ashton, C.M.G., V.D., and Mrs. Ashton.

During the evening there will be a gigantic display of fireworks from a scow in the Inner Harbor.

LAPLANDER WINS RELIEF IN COURT

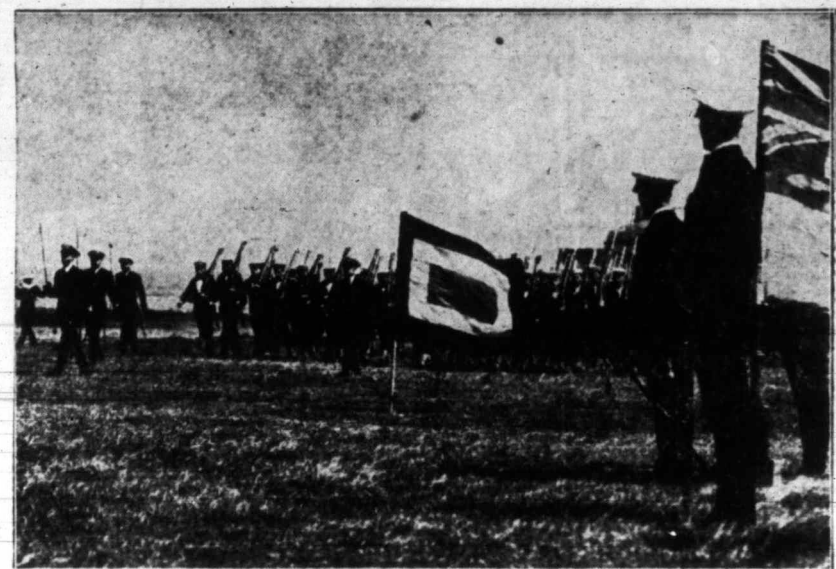

Judge Refuses to Evict Reindeer Herder From Apartment Lost Through Foreclosure

SEATTLE, April 16 (AP).—Andrew Bahr, the taciturn Laplander who for five years drove a herd of 3,000 reindeer across the Arctic wastes for the Canadian Government, returning to find that he had lost his home because of a mortgage foreclosure, won relief in Superior Court here today.

Superior Judge James T. Ronald, ruled the courts had been hasty in foreclosing a mortgage held by the Provident Mutual Insurance Company on two apartment houses owned by Bahr.

He denied the company a writ of assistance which would have evicted the Bahr family from their apartment home, ruling Bahr never had been served with the complaint asking foreclosure of the mortgage, and ordered the company to answer a complaint filed by Bahr's attorney asking it and the sheriff be enjoined from selling the apartment houses. The sale has been completed, but counsel for Bahr said the sale could be declared illegal.

Long Having Law Passed to Free Friend From Forgery Charge

BATON ROUGE, La., April 16 (AP).—Senator Huey P. Long is having his Louisiana Legislature pass a law designed to free a "good administration supporter" from a forgery charge. The proposed measure, which received committee approval today, would prevent prosecution of forgery charges if they were not brought within a year.

"Fixing him up?" twenty-five-year-old Representative Jackson Williamson, an anti-Longite, asked the Kingfish sarcastically at the committee hearing. "Yes, fixing him up," Long replied. "He's a friend of a friend of mine and a good administration supporter, so I don't see why we shouldn't be for it."

Government Fails to Find Adequate Ways Of Controlling Radio

Acting Premier Admits He Cannot See How Service Can Be Carried On by Commission—Marine Minister Intimates Action May Be Taken

OTTAWA, April 16 (CP).—Public control of radio broadcasting under the present commission has failed, the House of Commons was told today by Hon. W. D. Euler (Lib., North Waterloo), one of Parliament's champions of state ownership.

Mr. Euler claimed the number of private stations had increased in three years, politics had crept into the administration and programmes were mediocre.

VICTIMS OF OWN PRACTICAL JOKE

Two Students Permitted to Withdraw From University After Threatening Officials

SACKVILLE, N.B., April 16 (CP).—An extortion plot intended as a practical joke resulted in two students leaving Mount Allison University today.

Dr. G. J. Trueman, president of the university, and Rev. W. C. Ross, principal of Mount Allison Ladies' College, received letters yesterday demanding payment of $500 on pain of destruction by fire of the men's residence at the university and the ladies' college building.

Police, university students and officials set a trap with a dummy package and caught two students, whose names were withheld.

Brought before a faculty committee the two students were said to have explained that it was only a practical joke. They were permitted to withdraw from the university on their own suggestion.

Town Falls After Bitter Fighting

ASUNCION, April 16 (AP).—Bitter fighting in three sectors of the Chaco front culminated late today in the fall of Charagua, important town in the Bolivian department of Santa Cruz, the War Ministry announced.

A large deposit of munitions and other war supplies was captured along with the town.

The fall of Charagua takes the Paraguayan offence deep into Bolivian territory.

WORKS BILL IS CAUSE OF TILT

Sharp Battle Develops Between Front Benches—Progress Is Slow

OTTAWA, April 16 (CP).—A verbal Donnybrook developed in the House of Commons late tonight with front benches on both sides shouting accusations across the wide aisle, encouraged by desk-pounding and derisive remarks from their followers. Progress was so slow there will be a morning sitting tomorrow.

It all started when Liberals accused the Government of seeking blanket votes under the new public works bill, asking for millions of dollars and not saying where or how it would be spent. Conservatives retorted that the Liberals were talking too much, making so many stump speeches, they could not give the desired information.

"HYPOCRISY AND HUMBUG"
Accusing the Liberals of working themselves into a "sort of intoxication" over the bill, Minister of Railways R. J. Manion claimed they appropriated $250,000,000 for railways in 1929 without a single detail. He said their attitude was one of "hypocrisy and humbug."

Re. Hon. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, protested against any Government seeking, for instance, $1,000,000 for geological surveys anywhere in Canada, without saying where they would be made or under what terms and conditions.

The net result was a decision to hold a morning sitting tomorrow, the last day before the Easter recess. The five ministers concerned with the $33,000,000 bill said they would be ready then to give full details.

Culbertson Wins Chief Bore Title
NEW YORK, April 16 (AP).—Ely Culbertson was the victor today in the final tabulation of The New York Evening Post's poll for No. 1 bore.

The title he won is: New York's Premier Snooze Inducer.

As a prize, The Post will present to the bridge expert one complete set of the American works of Gertrude Stein.

During his recent tournament with the F. Hal Simmes, which Culbertson and his wife won handily, the expert said: "I want to win The Post prize. I've asked my friends to vote for me."

STRONGLY-WORDED RESOLUTION BACKED BY THREE BIG POWERS

Civil Servants Will Enjoy Four Days at Easter

COMMENCING on Friday, all ranks of the Provincial Civil Service will enjoy a four-day break in the routine of administrative affairs, on the occasion of customary Easter holidays. The Legislative Buildings, and other Provincial offices, will be closed from Thursday evening to Tuesday morning. The Government has declared Saturday morning a holiday for the service, as in other years, thus completing an unbroken vacation.

Scrambling For Alms Is Fatal Game

BAGDAD, April 16 (CP-Havas).—Seventy-five beggars were trampled to death in scrambling for a rich merchant's alms on one of the minor islands of the Bahrien group in the Persian Gulf, reports reaching here today said.

The mass tragedy occurred in a glamorous setting of Oriental extravagance as 2,000 ragamuffins, learning the fabulously wealthy merchant was about to celebrate by showering out money, swarmed to his mansion.

DECLARES WAR ON HUEY LONG

Secretary Ickes Reserves Right to Withhold Funds From Louisiana

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP).—Declaring open warfare on Senator Huey P. Long, of Louisiana, Harold Ickes, U.S. Secretary of the Interior, today threatened to cancel all public works projects in Louisiana.

The verbal slaps the two delivered at each other across the considerable distance between Washington and Baton Rouge appeared likely to develop into a political duel of some national significance. Long has been warring against the Administration. The return blows until today generally have been considered light.

Asserting here that public works Administration funds "won't be used to build up Senator Long's political machine," Ickes added to reporters: "If Senator Long is going to dictate to us how we shall conduct the P.W.A. programme in Louisiana we reserve the right to cancel our contracts."

How One Woman Got Her Divorce

OMAHA, Neb., April 16 (CP).—Mrs. Viola G. Beck testified in her suit for divorce: "My husband hit me on the head with a setting hen. It killed the hen and knocked me unconscious. Then he ordered me to cook the hen."

"Divorce granted," said District Judge Frank Dineen.

Six Million Will Be Asked From Ottawa To Assist Province

In Addition, Federal Government Will Be Requested to Undertake Large-Scale Works Programme—Premier Says Bridge Will Be Built

WHILE the exact details of the requests were not stated, British Columbia will seek loans in excess of $6,000,000 this Spring at Ottawa, Premier Pattullo indicated yesterday. A loan of $3,000,000 will be asked to finance the Province's special highway programme; $3,000,000, or slightly more, to finance the Province's share of relief, and further sums on account of other purposes, including funds for readvances to municipalities.

In addition to what is known as the treasury programme, which will be spoken to by Hon. John Hart when he goes East this week, Premier Pattullo indicated he had renewed his request of last year for Federal provision of large expenditures on public works. The Province, he said, would continue to press on this point, apart from immediate aid required in provincial financing.

WILL BUILD BRIDGE
Money to construct the proposed $4,000,000 toll bridge over the Fraser River at New Westminster will be sought at Ottawa, the Premier declared. When the project was approved, the Province would have no difficulty in securing the money, and was determined to proceed with construction of the bridge in due course, Mr. Pattullo added.

Last year the Province asked for approximately $2,000,000 from Ottawa, including $2,000,000 for a refunding operation in New York, sums to meet back deficits, and to cover a gap in current operations. This year the Province has closed the gap in current operations, leaving emergency and capital expenditures on which assistance was sought.

German Rearmament and One-Sided Repudiation of International Treaties Put Squarely Up to League of Nations—Germany Will Protest to Powers Represented on the Council

MacDonald to Give Summary Of Stresa Conference Today

GENEVA, April 16 (CP).—Germany's rearmament and the whole question of preventing future one-sided repudiation of international treaties was thrust squarely on the doorstep of the Council of the League of Nations this afternoon.

Clarifying the hitherto confused picture of just what procedure would be followed here, French Foreign Minister Pierre Laval submitted a draft resolution on behalf of the Governments of Great Britain, France and Italy, and on his own behalf backed it up with a strongly-worded denunciation of German rearmament and the abrupt repudiation of treaty obligations by her military decree of March 16.

Great Britain and Italy supported the French spokesman in no uncertain terms, but Foreign Minister Joseph Beck of Poland promptly challenged the draft's proposed strengthening of the League covenant, and with a scarcely-veiled reference to the Franco-Russian accord said Poland wondered whether certain suggested agreements were not calculated to prejudice, rather than foster, the peace of Eastern Europe.

EXPECTED TO LEAVE POST

British Premier Likely to Retire Quietly After Jubilee Celebrations End

LONDON, April 16 (CP).—Parliament will adjourn for the Easter holidays on Thursday, reassembling on April 29, the closing day to be devoted to a debate on the Three-Power Conference at Stresa.

Politicians, confident that Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald will quietly retire after the Jubilee celebrations are over, to be succeeded by Stanley Baldwin, Conservative Leader, declare the Government has regained most of the ground it lost during the fiasco over the changes in unemployment relief some months ago. The budget—"a poor man's budget"—is also expected to enlarge the Government's popularity, though a notable omission was the failure to include rural workers in the unemployment insurance scheme, as had been freely forecast.

EYES GIVING TROUBLE
Prime Minister MacDonald's eyes are still giving him trouble. It is predicted that in the reshuffle of the Cabinet Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will become the real driving force, while Sir John Simon will remain at his post of Foreign Secretary.

Much interest in speculation on the National Government's future attaches to its negotiations with former Premier David Lloyd George, whose "New Deal" plans have been under study by a special Cabinet committee for some weeks. He will meet the committee on Thursday.

MAY BE GIVEN SEAT
Well-informed politicians state there is no question of Mr. Lloyd George being given a seat in the Cabinet, which he does not really desire, but say the Government will seek to attach him to its banner by adopting practical features of his plan, thus intensifying the Administration's national complexion and probably securing the support of many Liberals who at present do not accept leadership of either Sir John Simon or Sir Herbert Samuel.

"It was appalling," the woman flyer told the Associated Press a few minutes after she made a forced landing here at 4:30 o'clock.

"I ran into it just east of Albuquerque, N.M. Until then I had been making good time on my West-to-East try."

"I flew then for four hours without a sign of the ground, except for slight glimpses. I tried to get above it. I was up 22,000 feet and it still was above me. The wind was terrific. I must have flown as far as Wichita in that haze."

DUST EVERYWHERE
"I had fears it was ruining my motor. Then I headed back. The dust was everywhere. As far in every direction as I could see I just couldn't get over it."

"I came out of the haze east of here and I saw a town and landed. It was Alamosa."

The storm that the woman flyer encountered has hung over South-eastern Colorado, Western Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas for weeks. Miss Ingalls left Los Angeles at 5:10 a.m.

STEVENS TO MOVE REPORT ADOPTION

Clerk of House Says Controversial Motion to Be Placed On Order Paper

OTTAWA, April 16 (CP).—Notice of Hon. H. H. Stevens that he would move the House of Commons adopt the report of the Royal Commission on Price Spreads and Mass Buying will appear on the House order paper after all, Arthur Beauchamp, Clerk of the House, said today.

Mr. Stevens, former Minister of Trade and Commerce and chairman of the commission, gave his notice last Friday after the report had been tabled in the House, but there was some question over its admissibility, largely because the report had been made to the Government and not to the House.

Mr. Beauchamp said it had been decided to place the notice on the order paper, however, after consultation between Mr. Stevens, Speaker James L. Bowman and himself.

King's Cancer Fund Closing With Bowl And Address Ready

Premier Pattullo Creates Precedent by Signing Direct Address to Foot of Throne—Native Gold From Goldstream Contributed to Fund

GOLD, mined recently in the Goldstream River, was added yesterday to the Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund as one of the closing donations to British Columbia's gift in honor of His Majesty King George V.

Handsomely encased in a white cedar cabinet within an Indian basket made in 1910, the silver Thunderbird bowl, with its contents of approximately $3,000, will go forward to London towards the end of this week, to swell the fund.

From William Robert Scafe, pioneer Victoria resident since 1874, the fund received a phial of gold he panned on the old bed of the Goldstream River, from which thousands of dollars of the precious metal were taken in the early days. Meanwhile, the fund was closing at all points in the province, with final tallies yet to be made.

FINE CRAFTSMANSHIP

Crowds yesterday viewed the magnificent Thunderbird bowl, made by Maurice Carmichael of this city, and read an illuminated address to go forward with the caper fund contribution from British Columbia. The address was engraved by Major W. G. H. Firth, and lettered by H. M. Wright, of the provincial civil service. The cedar cabinet, Indian basket, bowl and address were on view for the day in the picture gallery of the Legislative Buildings, under guard.

The Government made a precedent in connection with the address. Usually all provincial communications to the Throne go forward through the regular state channels, via Government House and the Secretary of State, Ottawa, over the signature of the Provincial Secretary. In this instance the Government is said to be forwarding direct to London an address signed by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, as Prime Minister. The text of the address is as follows:

PREMIER'S ADDRESS

"To His Most Gracious Majesty, King George V. By the Grace of God, of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India:

"Upon behalf of the Government of British Columbia, members of the Legislative Assembly, and the people of the province generally, I beg to offer to Your Majesty our heartfelt congratulations on the attainment of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Your Majesty's most glorious reign.

social consciousness and by earnest efforts to put new ideals into practical effect. We are mindful of Your Majesty's wise and gracious rule in this period of grave difficulty.

HELENWOOD, Tenn., April 16 (AP)—Seven persons were injured, approximately seventy-five made homeless, and fifty homes and buildings destroyed or damaged when 250 kegs of blasting powder and twenty cases of dynamite exploded today in the centre of this small village near the Kentucky-Tennessee line. LARGE SCHOOL UNDER REVIEW

Penticton Seeks Provincial Aid for Erection of Junior High Institution

Construction of a twelve-room junior high school at an approximate cost of $50,000 and other works in a total programme of some $110,000 were discussed with the Provincial Government this week by Penticton municipality, seeking approval for the necessary money by laws and some provincial aid.

Reeve Charles Oliver and a civic delegation of Penticton interviewed Premier Pattullo and Hon. A. W. Gray here.

Mr. Gray announced yesterday that approval by the Department of Municipal Affairs for a Penticton bond issue would be forthcoming after the actual by-laws have been drafted and reviewed.

SEEK GRANT

The exact amount of provincial aid sought has not yet been ascertained. Penticton has already filed an application for a grant from the Department of Education towards the proposed new junior high school. The province has authority to donate up to one-fifth of the cost of approved school buildings.

An extensive programme of irrigation, road and other works was said to be in contemplation, to be financed by the municipality initially, with whatever provincial assistance may be decided upon.

Under the Municipal Act as now amended, provincial approval of all civic money by-laws is necessary before fresh borrowings can be undertaken. This consent will not be withheld on reasonable applications, Mr. Gray intimated.

Urges Control of Drug Industry in British Columbia

Provincial control of the drug industry in British Columbia and in the last analysis complete socialization as a health welfare move was advocated by Ernest Bakewell, C.C.F. member in the Provincial Legislature, at a meeting at C.C.F. headquarters here Monday night under the auspices of the Victoria and District Council of the organization.

Mr. Bakewell's argument for provincial control was based mainly on price spread between the cost of manufacture and the price paid by the consumer, in which he used a number of examples of widely advertised patent medicines. He claimed the profit was not being made wholly by the druggist, but by what he termed the "vested interests" in Eastern Canada and the United States.

REVIEWS INDUSTRY

His address was styled "The Drug Racket" and consisted of a review of some of the evils of the industry—from the economic standpoint. He gave instances of the cost of production of various patent medicines, the ingredients of manufacture and the effects upon the human organism, or non-effect in some instances. It was because of the cost to the consumer and for the protection of the public against high prices for drugs, he said, that provincial control should be established in British Columbia.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID DEPARTED

Many Attend Funeral Service for Edward E. Leason Held Yesterday

A host of friends and fraternal associates paid fitting tribute to the late Edward E. Leason at the funeral service held yesterday afternoon. The chapel was filled to overflowing, while the alcove, wherein reposed the casket, was banked with a profusion of flowers.

Long before the service was held, people gathered to pay their final respect to a citizen who was held in high esteem in the community in which he had lived for so many years.

READS SCRIPTURE

Lieut.-Col. H. J. N. de Salis conducted the Christian Science funeral service, which was opened with the reading of the Scriptures. Colonel de Salis read from the Psalms, First Thessalonians, First Corinthians, First John, and also the co-relative passages from the Christian Science textbook.

The reading of the Scripture was followed by several minutes of silent prayer, then the oral reading of the Lord's Prayer, with the spiritual interpretation from the Christian Science textbook. Following the Lord's Prayer, the congregation sang "Abide With Me," after which Colonel de Salis read the scientific statement of Being with the co-relative scripture from the First Book of John. This marked the close of the service.

MASONIC SERVICE

The graveside service was conducted by St. Andrew's Lodge No. 49, A.F. & A.M., Worthy Brother S. W. Macintosh officiating. Interment was in Ross Bay Cemetery. The pallbearers, all Masons, were as follows: Honorary, Most Worshipful Brothers S. J. Willis, A. McCree, John Rudd, Robert Baird, Right Worshipful Brothers George Derby and S. McClure; active, Worshipful Brothers Richard Angus, Dr. Frank Bryant, E. N. Horsey, E. G. Rowbottom, J. W. Hudson and M. J. Little.

The main body of the chapel was reserved entirely for members of the Masonic Lodge, of which the deceased was a member, and members of the Daughters of the Nile and members of the Order of the Eastern Star. Many public dignitaries were present.

FLORAL TRIBUTES

Among the floral offerings were many from various Masonic lodges throughout the Pacific Northwest, and from the Government service, with which the deceased had been identified so long, as well as the general public.

Among these were wreaths from St. Andrew's Lodge No. 49, A.F. & A.M.; Gizeh Temple of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine; E. P. Searle; Nile Temple, Seattle; the Shrine Band, Victoria; the Shrine Band, Vancouver; Knights Templar, Grand Lodge, British Columbia A.F. & A.M.; members of Scottish Rite, Victoria; North American Shrine Recorders' Association; Victoria Court No. 100, Royal Order of Jesters; Western Canada Conclave; Hon. T. D. Pattullo and members of the Executive Council of British Columbia; staff of Department of Taxation, and officers and members of Victoria Lodge No. 1, I.O.O.F.

PROMINENT MASONS

Among those who attended were a number of prominent members of the Masonic Order from outside points, including A. W. Dawe, of New Westminster; Cecil Grieve, of Vancouver; Ed McKenzie, of New Westminster; William Rae, of Vancouver; Harry Watson, of Vancouver; and Dr. D. E. Kerr, of Duncan.

Victoria Masonic lodges turned out in large numbers, and from the civil servants who had long been associated with the deceased there was a marked attendance. This was supplemented by many citizens who had long been friends of Mr. Leason, including Hon. John Hart, Mayor David Leeming, Alderman Walter Luney, William Burns, William Cullin, W. O. Wallace, Thomas Cole, Frank J. Sehl, Thomas Leeming, Charles Bamfield, Robert Morrison, John Conway, Henry Cathcart, William J. Cruickshank and James Dickson.

MAKE APPEAL FOR FUNDS SATURDAY

The Recreation Rooms committee will make its annual appeal to the general public next Saturday, and it is hoped that a large number of persons will come forward to tag on the streets. This is one of the main sources of supplying money for necessary expenditure, and the committee is anticipating a generous response.

Mrs. Styles Sehl and Mrs. A. S. Christie have agreed to act as conveners. The headquarters will be at 622 Yates Street, and the room will be open from 7.45 a.m. to 6 p.m. A good number of taggers have volunteered, but more are still needed. Many churches and organizations have representatives on the committee, of which Mayor David Leeming is chairman, with H. H. Smith as vice-chairman. The members are Captain W. Brown, Rev. E. F. Church, Major Fullerton, Rev. G. G. Boothroyd, S. M. Lamb, Fred Landsberg, Rev. A. de B. Owen, H. D. Patterson, Dean Quinlan, Bishop Schofield, Captain Burgess Gadsden, R. Taylor, Rev. J. H. A. Ward, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, F. K. O'Neill, Gilbert G. Fraser, F. K. O'Neill, T. Abraham, Miss I. Dallain, Mesdames T. Abraham, Styles Sehl, A. S. Christie and R. W. Hurst, with A. S. Hurdleby, as secretary.

LOCAL SCOUTS CONGRATULATED

Lord Baden-Powell Commends Showing of Island Troops in Display

Lord Baden-Powell, Chief Scout, in a letter to Major James Wise, district commissioner, praised the showing of the local Scouts and Guides in the big display on Saturday.

"Dear Wise: 'In bidding good-bye—most reluctantly—to Vancouver Island, I must tell you how delighted I am with the standard to which you and the Scouts and executives have brought scouting in the Island.

"The rally was a genuine pleasure to me. The boys were well turned out, looking smart and happy, and their different displays were jolly well done. I would congratulate your staff and the Rovers on their good arrangements made in co-operation with the Girl Guides, which caused the whole show to work successfully.

"I am sure that it must have impressed the public very favorably. The public, on their part, coming in such large numbers and showing such a close interest in all that went on must have given great encouragement to both Scouts and Scouts.

NEED SCOUTMASTERS

"I only hope that a number of young men will now feel the call to spend some of their spare time in doing a service to Canada by joining us as Scoutmasters. By doing so they will enable us to take in hand a bigger percentage of the rising generation—a point of national importance in these difficult times of unrest, while for their own part they will realize something of the big satisfaction that comes of devoting a bit of one's time to doing that which is worth while, instead of frittering it away in mere play.

"For this reason, though games are good and healthful, scouting is the best game of all, both for men who lead and for the boys who follow their lead.

"My cordial congratulations to you and with most sincere good wishes for your further successes.

"Yours sincerely,

(Signed) "BADEN-POWELL."

Dr. Clem Davies Attacks
Marriage Bill—Claims
Right to Officiate

1,200 ATTEND FIRST
ANNIVERSARY PARTY

The Marriage Act of the Province of British Columbia is ultra vires. No Government has the right to dictate to the people how and where they shall worship their God," declared Dr. Clem Davies in an address to upwards of 1,200 persons gathered in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium here last night to observe the first anniversary of the establishment of the new church that has yet to be given an "official" name.

For almost a year, Dr. Davies informed his congregation, he had been endeavoring to secure from the registrar of marriages his right to continue the performance of marriage rites in Victoria. His right, he maintained, had been taken from him without just or sufficient cause. Dr. Davies also announced the petition, signed by 1,100 members of his congregation, would be presented today to the Provincial Secretary at the Legislative Buildings.

PASS RESOLUTION
The petition will be accompanied by a resolution, which was fully endorsed at the gathering last night. The resolution asks for the reinstatement of Dr. Davies on the register of ministers having the right to perform marriages.

After extending a cordial welcome to members of his congregation and friends, Dr. Davies introduced the ushers, who were gowned in blue with white crosses on their uniforms, and paid tribute to their work since the church was instituted a year ago. He also mentioned it had been the custom of the church during the last year to meet all expenses within twenty-four hours of a regular Sunday worship and this custom had been fully carried out, and he said, "the church is free of debt and not one account is outstanding at this date."

AIMS OF CHURCH
Further in his address he mentioned the church was maintained through the efforts of the members themselves. The institution had only one society, the ladies, and they had completed their year of work without the aid of a president or other officers.

"We organized the church because we felt there was a need in Victoria for an institution for the expression of the thoughts of the masses and to act as an inspiration and a guide to other churches. This, I believe, we have accomplished," said Dr. Davies. At the conclusion of his short address, the audience stood and sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The gathering was in the form of a huge birthday party, arranged wholly by the members of the congregation. Among the donations received during the evening was a mammoth cake. It was in the form of a miniature Mount Tolmie and had thirteen layers, surmounted by a cross. The layers represented each year Dr. Davies had held a sunrise service at the summit of the mountain on Easter morning.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME
The guests at the "party" were entertained with a musical programme and two playlets, and afterwards enjoyed refreshments. The programme consisted of the following numbers: Piano accordion solos, Reg. Gerrard, Harvey Godiel and Reg. Saunders; recitation by little Miss Ilace Roskelley; soprano solo, Miss Elsie Friend; guitar selections, Alec Molesworth; yodeling solos, Len Holden, and harmonica and ukelele solos, Mr. and Miss Lavery.

Two humorous plays were presented. The first was "Deaf as a Post," by the following players: Mrs. Rosa Semple, Miss Elleen Christie, Robert Foulis and Christopher Hollier. The second play was "Rose Garden of Love," and those taking part were Clive Batchelor, Arthur Jackman, Elleen Christie, John Bell, and a chorus of Moya Bailey, Sigma Uteridge, Gem McKeown, Rose Steer, Louise Patterson, Robert Foulis, Al Howison, Alex Warren, Walter Hawse and Al Colby, with Mrs. S. Langley at the piano. Both plays were directed by Mrs. Rosa Semple. Mrs. Fred H. Parsons was in the chair and announced the programme numbers.

YOUNG PIANIST GIVEN ACCLAIM

Donald Nelson Gives Enjoyable Recital—Is Musician of Outstanding Merit

Last night's pianoforte recital by Donald Nelson in the New Thought Hall presaged a musical future that should be worthy of so ardent a pianist. His opening number, Stephen Heller's "Warrior's Song," was sufficient to convey to his audience that the pianist was one of outstanding talent, who, with a continuance of his studies, should go far in the musical world.

It was surprising to learn at the close of the recital that this youth, not yet out of his teens, has only been studying the piano for two and a half years. In his recital he was ably assisted by Miss Gloria Parke, girl soprano. Mrs. Clifford Warn was the accompanist.

Modest, almost to the extreme, Mr. Nelson disclosed a surprising confidence in his ability, and a mastery of his instrument that belied his manner. He struck the resonant chords of Heller's "Warrior's Song" with the assurance of a virtuoso. His perfectly-blended discords were enhanced by the strength of character that his playing gave them.

CAPTIVATES AUDIENCE
His sense of rhythm and fine attention to accent were shown to a remarkable degree in Heller's "Spinning Song," while his style of interpretation captivated the appreciative audience. In rendering Massenet's "Elegie, Opus 10," Mr. Nelson never stepped beyond the stage where his interpretation would have become maudlin. It was his splendid restraint, coupled with his ability to capture the mood of the piece, that won from his audience insistent applause. At the close of his recital, the artist was compelled to accede to repeated demands for encores.

CROFT—Private funeral services for Mrs. Mary Ann Croft were held yesterday afternoon. Rev. Robert Connell officiating, after which the remains were forwarded to Vancouver for cremation.

WILL URGE BUOY FOR MOUNT REEF
Representations are to be made to the Department of Marine and Fisheries for the placing of a buoy on Mount Reef, where, in the past twelve months, four vessels have grounded. It was stated last night by officials of the Vancouver Island Lifeboat Association.

The last vessel to ground on the reef was the Provincial, a fish packer, last Friday. On that occasion the lifeboat from Clover Point station went out in charge of Coxswain C. R. Randall, Joe Denison and E. Bowden, and stood by the Provincial until she was righted by the rising tide and was pulled off the reef by the Respond, of the Island Tug & Barge Company's fleet.

The lifeboat made a smart run to the scene of the grounding, after the crew had been notified that the Provincial was ashore and might be seriously damaged.

condemns "any unilateral repudiation of international obligations."
TO CONTINUE NEGOTIATIONS
2. It invites the governments which initiated the Anglo-French security programme of February 3, and governments which have encouraged or approved this plan, to continue the negotiations and promote the conclusion within the framework of the League of Nations which appear necessary to attain the objects defined by this plan.

3. It requests that a committee be established to consider appropriate measures to prevent unilateral denunciation of treaties, and to propose measures to render the covenant more effective in the organization of collective security.
The draft resolution of the three powers thus goes further than condemnation. It contemplates measures against future treaty violations. It asks the Council to decide that the unilateral repudiation of obligations should, "in the event of its having relation to undertakings concerning the security of the peoples and the maintenance of peace in Europe, call into play all the appropriate measures on the part of the members of the League and within the framework of the covenant."

ASKS FOR COMMITTEE
In its third part it requests the appointment of a committee to propose measures to render the covenant more effective in organization of collective security "and to define particularly the economic and financial measures which might be applied, should, in future, a state, whether a member of the League of Nations or not, endanger peace by unilateral repudiation of its international obligations."
The debate opened late in the day and proceeded for an hour and a half in a tense atmosphere. The Council had moved to a larger room for the occasion, but even this was packed to suffocation.

M. Laval minced no words as he submitted the joint resolution. "Measures must be considered with a view to rendering the covenant more effective in the organization of collective security."

WILL FACE RESPONSIBILITY
The Council of the League will assume its responsibility. Charged with the maintenance of peace, it will not wish to remain silent or indifferent.

"By her acts, France had shown that she desired peace," he continued. "With the British Government at London in February a programme had been considered which was to lead rapidly to the solid organization of security in Europe."

"It will not be said in the world that through the request which it has put before the Council of the League, the Government of the republic wishes to hamper the necessary work of reconciliation between peoples of the world. If, in order to meet the needs of international morality it is necessary to have judgments on the past, it is indispensable that we should not interrupt the slow, difficult, and so often thankless work for the organization of peace."

REAFFIRMS DUTY
Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, followed him. He pointed out that the first part of the resolution "reaffirms the duty of us all in respect to the undertakings we have contracted. Although the with the French and Italian Governments in presenting this draft resolution for consideration of the Council. We hope that the discussions will show that the Council is prepared to accept it and make it effective as a resolution of the Council," said Sir John.

Baron Pompeo de Aloisi of Italy said the joint resolution expressed the fundamental principle of international collaboration by which the Fascist Government was constantly inspired.

GERMANY WILL PROTEST
BERLIN, April 16 (CP-Havas). — Germany will protest officially to the powers on the League of Nations Council against the French resolution morally condemning German rearmament, Chancellor Adolf Hitler's newspaper, the Volkischer Beobachter, intimated tonight.

The Nazi party medium declared that if the Council votes for condemnation of Germany if it doubtful if the Reich could return to the League.

Sensational headlines declared the accord reported at Stresa among Great Britain, France and Italy had not broken down, and that the protest by the three powers had been presented with singular energy.

DR. H. T. GUSSOW IS CITY VISITOR

Plans to Work for Next Ten Years to Establish National Botanical Gardens

During the next ten years, Dr. H. T. Gussow, Ottawa, Dominion botanist, will devote his energies to establishing a national botanical garden in Canada, he declared on arrival here yesterday.

Dr. Gussow explained the scheme he has had in mind for the last twenty-five years was not merely an amusement park, nor a horticultural establishment, but a centre where botanical research may be carried on for the benefit of the people.

"In the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, tonight, at 8 o'clock, he will give an illustrated lecture on "Roaming Through the Botanical Gardens of the Empire." The address will be sponsored by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, Vancouver Island Tourist Trade Development Association and the Victoria Horticultural Society.

When interviewed at the Empress Hotel yesterday, Dr. Gussow spoke of the famous Kew Gardens in London, visited by 2,000,000 persons every year.

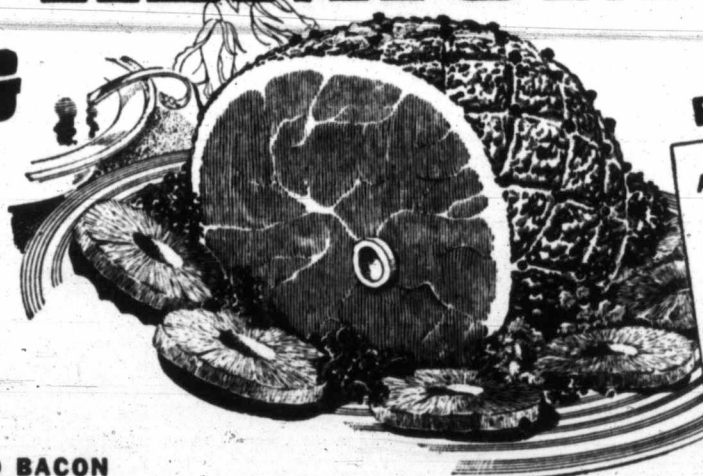

"Just imagine what it would mean to have such a botanical garden in British Columbia, even from the aspect of the tourist trade alone," the visitor said. "And you have the climatic conditions in this province where such a botanical garden could be developed," he added.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Club Women Addressed By Lady Baden-Powell

Chief Guide Speaks at Meeting of Women's Canadian Club in Vancouver—Tells of Growth of Scouting and Guiding Throughout World

VANCOUVER, April 16 (CP).—The Girl Guides' organization gives a joy of voluntary service to every girl and woman in the adventure of every-day living, declared Lady Baden-Powell, in addressing a meeting of the Canadian Women's Club here yesterday.

"Young girls," she said, "are our greatest asset and our heaviest responsibility. In these days of changing tradition and thought, it is more than ever necessary to guard our young people and to make them strong. It is the woman in the house who counts."

FIGHTING MATERIALISM
"Today we are continually fighting materialism, speed and selfishness. We can see the struggle in the anxious, worried faces of those about us, and we must take care that those looks of stress are not implanted on the faces of our young people. Children should be happy, contented, healthy and helpful and we must train them in their duty towards others and the community in general."

"In guiding," she explained, "we try to train the youngsters in body and spirit and, further, we inculcate in them a sense of friendliness that must do a great deal to counteract the unspeakable war-mindedness fostered by some people today. We must be allies in the cause of the young and of peace."

SHIP OF FRIENDSHIP
In her second address, Lady Baden-Powell described some of the amazing growth of Scouting and Guiding she had seen in nearly every country while touring the world with her husband. She spoke of the work done by the Guides in Toulon, Egypt, Colombo, Malaya, Java and Poland. She also told of the "Ship of Friendship" which she arranged through one of the English steamship companies in which 900 persons visited eight countries in seventeen days to view the work of the Scouts.

Lord and Lady Baden-Powell first came here in 1910 to advance the work of the Scouts. They again visited here ten years ago.

"We are deeply touched with the welcome we have been accorded in Canada," she said.

CONSTABLE FOUND SIGNS OF HOMICIDE

Rattenbury on this evening suffering severe head wounds, which caused his death four days afterwards. The constable said he found a man's jacket and waistcoat, which appeared to have just been washed, in the bathroom, and a man's blood-stained collar in the garbage pail. The mallet with which police say the crime was committed was concealed behind the front door.

Mrs. Rattenbury appeared slightly flushed as she was escorted to the dock today by a wardress. She gazed around the crowded court room. She wore a beige felt hat and a fur coat with a large pink carnation.

NO SIGN OF RECOGNITION
For a fleeting second her eyes met those of the youthful chauffeur, but there was no sign of recognition between the two.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens, grandmother of the accused chauffeur, was today's first witness. She said Stoner borrowed the mallet with the remark he was going to put up a tent.

A bank cashier testified on March 18, before the attack on Rattenbury, the victim drew a cheque for the equivalent of $1,250 on the Bank of Montreal, in London, in favor of his wife. On the same day his wife drew up a cheque for $250 from her account in favor of Stoner, and the latter cashed it.

Keith Jones, a solicitor and nephew of Rattenbury, told the court the deceased had two children by a former marriage, and they were now in Canada. This marriage had been dissolved and his first wife had since died. Seven years ago Rattenbury married again in Canada.

His second wife, the accused, had a son by a former marriage, now thirteen years of age, and also had a six-year-old son by her second marriage.

NEARLY FAINTED
Mrs. Rattenbury nearly fainted while Jones was on the witness stand. The wardress revived her with a glass of water and smelling salts.

Further evidence was that Stoner had purchased a ring on March 19, paying approximately $75 in large notes which he obtained when he cashed the cheque from Mrs. Rattenbury. The ring was sent to a hotel in Kensington, London, where both the accused were staying at the time, occupying separate rooms. Mrs. Rattenbury described Stoner to the hotel manager as her brother.

Employees of a London firm with whom Mrs. Rattenbury had an account, testified to visits by Mrs. Rattenbury and Stoner, during which they made purchases to a value of more than $200. These included everything for men's wear, including suits of pyjamas and socks, and the articles were debited to Mrs. Rattenbury's deposit account. It was also testified before the Four powerful motors, developing 2,800 horsepower, whirled the big propellers as several thousand spectators eagerly watched the start of the pioneering hop.

The six men of the clipper's crew, captained by Edwin C. Musick, walked to the float and entered their craft. They wore natty blue uniforms and white caps.
Then Chief Pilot R. O. D. Sullivan opened the throttles and the craft turned slowly and headed out into the bay.
Spray flamed from the black hull as the clipper gathered speed. It raced along the surface for a quarter of a mile, and after thirty seconds lifted into the air.
CONDITIONS FAVORABLE
The sun was shining brilliantly at Alameda and in San Francisco when the flight began, and weather conditions at sea were reported almost ideal.
There were only a few scattered clouds en route, and no adverse winds.
"The flyers will have very good weather for the next twenty-four or thirty-six hours," said Major Edward H. Bowie, United States weather forecaster at San Francisco.

Life's High Principles Taught Through Guiding

Provincial Commissioner Gives Inspiring Address at Annual Meeting of Girl Guides' Council in Vancouver—Training Is of Value

"Never in the history of British Columbia has a new Guide year started under such auspicious circumstances," said Mrs. Alan Morrell, provincial commissioner of the Girl Guides Association, in an address yesterday at the annual meeting of the Provincial Council in Vancouver.

Continuing, Mrs. Morrell said in part, "The mere fact that ours is the first province to welcome the beloved chiefs to Canada is in itself a joy and an inspiration, and to know that our founder is in such good health and spirits gives cause for added joy."

GROWTH OF GUIDING

Mrs. Morrell congratulated the members on the success of the past year and quoted the summing-up of guiding as contained in Miss Stewart Williams' report. This was as follows:

"My recent trip through parts of British Columbia has shown me that on the whole, guiding is well organized in the province. There is guiding of all sorts going on, and some of it leaves a good deal to be desired, but the spirit that pervades it is for the most part excellent.

"There is no doubt that it is a great help for small isolated places to receive a visit from a trainer, but far greater progress would be made if some scheme could be planned whereby these isolated Guides could be gathered together into some central place and given a week's training."

Mrs. Morrell commented on the splendid work which Miss Williams has done, and of how much her visits to Guide centres throughout the province have been appreciated. Her value as a trainer had been recognized by Dominion headquarters, who sent her on a three weeks' tour to Alberta, at the same time enabling her to visit Northern British Columbia.

The competition for the shield presented by Her Excellency the Countess of Bessborough had been won by the First Warner Company with a remarkably good collection of toys.

VALUE OF GUIDING

Of the value of guiding and of the youth of today, Mrs. Morrell said: "Those of us who are working with and for the youth of this country realize that they are in a position which is almost paradoxical. On the one hand, I suppose children never have had so much done for them in the way of diversion and amusement. There are organized games in the schools, instruction in the various branches of handicraft and vocational knowledge, in addition to the regular curriculum.

"At home, even for those in very moderate circumstances, there is a radio and possibly a car, and a certain number of visits to the movies. (I am not, of course, referring to people who have been hard hit by the recent distressing economic condition.)

"This means that guiding, to mention our own particular form of social service, certainly does not present the novelty that it did, though for that very reason I consider that those large numbers of girls whom it does attract, make all the better Guides. They find in it an idealism which appeals to them as well as a natural outlet for their energy and the satisfaction of the herd instinct. But the fact remains that we should be grateful to them for co-operating with us in our efforts both to live and to teach the truths and philosophy for which guiding stands in its deepest sense.

A RESPONSIBILITY

"Hence, our responsibility is all the greater, and we must see to it that they absorb sufficient of these truths to be of service to them when actual childhood days are over, and the second stage of their youth—the wage-earning stage—has begun. For here is where the paradox comes in.

"Equipped by years of education (I am neither sufficiently brave nor sufficiently an expert to discuss the merits of our educational system) and starting forth with high hopes, many of them find themselves unable to obtain work, or gain a foothold in their chosen profession.

"The economic reasons for this I am also not competent enough to discuss, but the facts in themselves are sad. It may not be in our power, for the time being at least, to alter them—but it is in our power

Gough accompanying, while the Magnificat was sung by Mrs. Goodwin. Rev. G. G. Boothroyd gave an interesting talk on Ikhonath, the Pharaoh who ruled Egypt nearly 2,000 years B.C., and who, because of his loyalty to his belief in one God who was Father of all races, and his effort to establish that faith in his land, lost both his throne and his family. Today, however, through Christ, all idealists are made one. Two solos were sung by Mrs. W. H. Wilson. The thanksgiving received was gratifying. Hearty thanks were extended to all who contributed to the programme. After the Misspah benediction, a social half-hour, under the convenship of Mrs. H. M. Wright, was much enjoyed. At the May meeting the tenth anniversary of union will be celebrated with a luncheon.

Oriental Influence Is Noticeable in Fashion

Attractive Style Show of Spring Gowns Attracts Crowd to Angus Campbell & Co., Ltd.—Line and Material Important

Fashion designers are ever on the lookout for new ideas and derive their inspirations from all corners of the globe. This year they have turned their eyes toward the Far East and the Oriental influence has made itself felt in the new "maharani" and "harem" gowns, which were shown at the Angus Campbell & Co., Ltd., style revue yesterday in the showroom of the store.

Both in the morning and again in the afternoon there were large crowds of spectators, and in a charming Spring setting, to the accompaniment of music played by Mr. Cecil Heaton, the mannequins paraded before an admiring throng.

ACT AS MANNEQUINS
Acting as mannequins were Mrs. H. N. Lay and Misses Gorton, Ball, Knapp and Morrison.

The "maharani" gown had been adapted to occidental usage as a dinner gown of vivid magenta chiffon. The skirt and cape-like collar, the ends of which were brought over the head and across the chin, had touches of blue embroidery.

The "harem" gown was an exquisite creation of black marquisette, the very bouffant skirt being caught up under the hemline and fell in billowy folds. The sleeves were bouffant in design and the low décolleté was marked by tiny buttons. Another very charming black frock, to which Mrs. Campbell drew special attention, was of lovely sheer Chantilly lace, the beautifully-cut cape of which might be worn over other evening frocks with equal effect. The French paste buckle was a noteworthy feature of this gown.

EVENING FROCKS

Lace evening frocks of the most bewitching shades and styles were shown, a shell pink model and a lovely wood-brown being much admired. A white taffeta frock for evening was designed with a Toby collar and the cleverly-cut skirt billowed into a train. With this gown was worn a short evening jacket of white quilted taffeta with wide sleeves and upstanding collar. A lovely chateau green gown, made on long sleeve lines, relied on a very intricate sash trim of a deep violet shade, which harmonized beautifully with the green of the gown. It is in such daring color combinations that the new mode strikes its distinctive note, and absence of elaborate trimming is especially noteworthy.

Suggestive of Spring in all its loveliness are the new patterned crepe frocks, suitable for dinner wear or the cocktail party. In this semi-formal group was a quaint blue and white gingham design taffeta frock, trimmed with vivid scarlet ruching, and among the other lovely crisp taffetas was one in brown and gold plaid, worn with a plain brown sash. Delicate melon pink was used as color contrast on a sheer brown frock with bouffant sleeves.

WEDDING PARTY

As a grand finale, an Easter wedding party was shown. Miss Ball was the lovely bride in a frock of white Nottingham lace, made on the simplest of lines, the square-cut neckline edged with white garlands, and the filmy net veil falling from a coronet of orange blossoms at the back of the head. In place of the conventional bouquet, the bride carried a white prayer book showered with white satin streamers, pink sweet peas and forget-me-nots.

The bridesmaids and maids of honor wore charming frocks of pink and cel blue silk net, respectively. The hats were Regency bonnets of stitched silk to match their frocks, trimmed with tiny sprays of flowers. They carried little muffs of shirred net on which were posed hand-made flowers of silk to match the sashes of their frocks.

The maids of honor wore coin-dotted silk net, one in creche pink, the other in leaf green. A tiny peplum effect marked the waist, and short, full puff sleeves and square neckline, and a diagonal frill on the skirt were charming features. Both wore large floppy Leghorn hats and carried sheaves of Spring Glory daffodils. All the flowers in the bridal procession were supplied by Brown's Nurseries.

INFORMAL WEAR

For the informal bridge and afternoon tea, the navy taffeta two and three-piece suits would bring joy to the woman of slender purse, and for sports wear the Lanese knitted suits are ideal. The tomato, cream, and other gay colors modeled today would look most effective against a background of green golf course or tennis court.

The Golfex styles are smarter than ever. One of the most attractive suits shown from this house was of the new Jonella cloth in French turquoise blue, while another three-piece suit of concord blue boasted a narrow scarlet leather belt and transparent buttons on the frock, and a jaunty hip coat.

A group of very smart and dressy coats was also shown, including a Del Monte-Hickey in fancy beige weave with a cape collar, also several new designs for sport and street wear.

IMPRESSED WITH TOUR

Episcopal Bishop of Princeton Praises Missionaries for Social Service Efforts

Returning from a tour of the world, Rev. Paul Matthews, Episcopal Bishop of Princeton, New Jersey, reached Victoria on board the American Mail Line S.S. President Grant yesterday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Matthews. The tour occupied five months and took them to a large number of countries.

Among the places visited, Japan and India impressed the travelers most. The Bishop stated that in order to understand Oriental peoples they should be contacted in their own countries. Japan's progress in the last few decades had been amazing.

PLANNED FOR FUTURE

Concerning India, it was marvelous the way in which the British had planned for the future, particularly in the building up of the cities. Places like New Delhi boasted buildings equal to anything in Washington. A fault he found in India had to do with the railways, where they are worse than they are in China.

Bishop Matthews expressed considerable praise for the missionaries laboring in Oriental countries. He spoke particularly of their achievements in social service work. There was a great need for education, and especially for hospital equipment. He cited one city in China, of 250,000 inhabitants, where there is only one hospital.

TO OWN RESOURCES

Mentioning the Philippines and what may happen when the United States grants the islands independence, Bishop Matthews said that it had been pointed out to him while in Manila that it meant really leaving a Christian country to its own resources without any means of defending itself. This was a new thought, and should be considered.

GETTING MORE FRIENDLY NOW

Conditions Look More Stable in Northern China at Present Time

C. E. Seymour, who has represented the American Mail and Dollar Lines at Tientsin since 1915, was an arrival here yesterday morning aboard the S.S. President Grant, accompanied by Mrs. Seymour and four children. They will visit in Norway, Connecticut, until September, when they will return to China.

Mr. Seymour stated that conditions were now much more stable in Northern China than they were a year ago. He believed that the Japanese and the Chinese were going to get along a lot better together from now on. The former are apparently anxious to conciliate the latter, while the Chinese are inclined to work more with the Japanese.

Travel between the United States and the Orient side, and vice versa, over the Southern route, was decidedly good at present, with prospects for its continuance for some months to come. Mr. Seymour stated he had badly wanted to cross the Pacific on the S.S. President Hoover from Hongkong to San Francisco, but there was no accommodation available, nor would the company guarantee him space on either the Hoover or the Coolidge when he is returning to his post in September.

FIVE VESSELS CLEAR FROM FORT WILLIAM

FORT WILLIAM, April 16 (CP).—Threading their way through a passage cut in the ice field, five vessels cleared from the harbor here today, loaded with grain and headed "down-lake" with the first cargoes of the 1935 season.

The vessels were the Stadacona, Donatona, Granby, Winnipeg and Saskatoon, owned by the Canada Steamship Lines.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised that the fog alarm on Ogden Point Breakwater, at the entrance to Victoria Harbor, will be out of commission from April 22 to April 24, inclusive, for the purpose of making repairs.

A. W. R. WILBY,
Agent Department of Marine.

HARBOR WILL BE IMPROVED

Millions for Montreal's Waterfront Contained in Public Works Bill

MONTREAL, April 16 (CP).—Plans for the complete rebuilding of Montreal harbor were outlined today at a meeting of the Montreal harbor commissioners. The plans would allow quicker access from the St. Lawrence River, higher water, easier dredging in the softer bottom and elimination of the "St. Mary's current."

It was learned the harbor plans will in time move the whole passenger harbor about five miles eastward. The drawings show eight new piers, four of which will be long piers likely accommodating two ships, while in between them are four shorter piers. It is expected the new piers will accommodate about forty vessels.

Decision to move the harbor farther east, it was learned, came after a statement by Chief Harbor Engineer Paul Lecarlier that dredging is a much easier task in the softer bottom further down the river.

SOFTER BOTTOM

Moving of the passenger section eastward, with softer bottom, allowing easier dredging, which would deepen the water, is expected to bring larger ocean-going ships to Montreal. In time it is hoped to

NORTHWEST AGENT OF
GRACE LINE VESSELS
WAS HERE YESTERDAY

A visitor to Victoria yesterday was Charles F. Long, Northwest passenger agent of the Grace Line, with headquarters at Seattle. Mr. Long, who was a regular caller here while the Grace Line ships were coming into Victoria, arrived on the Iniquity and returned down the coast.

Mr. Long was nursing a stiff leg, which he said was still in splints following a skiing accident on Mount Rainier just a little over six weeks ago. He got mixed up in a bad fall while traveling at a high rate of speed one moonlight night.

Improving rapidly, he stated he was looking forward to having another go at the mountain slopes before long.

INCREASES TO BE DISCUSSED

City Council Will Consider Today Possibility of Pay Restoration

Civic employees who have been cheered up by the prospect of partial restoration of wage cuts, will have more definite information after the City Council deliberates into estimates this afternoon. The Mayor and aldermen will meet at the City Hall at 2 o'clock.

D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller and treasurer, has prepared a report for presentation to the council, which will enable that body to decide whether increases this year are feasible.

At the last council meeting, Alderman Percy R. Brown fostered a motion to consider possibility of a blanket increase of 3 per cent in salaries of firemen, policemen, inside and outside City Hall staffs and library employees.

The total civic payroll is approximately $464,000. A 3 per cent increase would mean that some $13,900 would have to be added to the current budget. Salaries of civic employees were cut 10 per cent in 1932 and 5 per cent in 1933.

Mr. Brown expressed to his landlady his pleasure when he saw her place a plate of scraps before the cat.

"Ah, yes, sir," she replied. "Wot I says, Mr. Brown, is be kind to the cats, and ye'll find it saves yer 'art the washin' up."

Mississippi Tornado Takes Big Toll

Gloster, Miss., was almost demolished by a tornado which caused hundreds of thousands of dollars' damage and killed twenty-one persons. The top photo shows the remains of a gasoline station where two were killed. Heavy tanks were lifted like chips by the wind. Lower, a view of the debris in the town after passage of the disastrous wind storm.

CAPITOL Taking its place among the most unusual films ever attempted in the history of motion pictures is the nature story, "Sequoia" (pronounced "See-quo-yah"), recently completed by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, now showing at the Capitol Theatre. Started nearly two years ago in the wildest section of the High Sierras included in the confines of Sequoia National Park, the picture presented almost insurmountable production difficulties.

PLAYHOUSE Janet Gaynor and Lew Ayres, who are co-stars of the Fox Film "Servants' Entrance," now playing at the Playhouse Theatre, are together on the screen for the second time. Their first parts opposite each other were in "State Fair."

DOMINION Gene Raymond and Frances Drake are now appearing on the screen of the Dominion Theatre in "Transient Lady." "Transient Lady," from the pen of Octavus Roy Cohen, appeared in Liberty Magazine as a serial. The uproarious comedy ap-

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

ACCURATE DIAGNOSIS

South was able to fulfill a very dangerous three no trump contract on the hand below by brilliantly dropping a doubleton queen. He was able to do so because he knew his right-hand opponent and knew that player in all probability needed that queen to make his opening bid a sound one. The play of the entire hand and the reasoning which led South to make his accurate diagnosis is recounted below.

1. A shaded opening bid according to most standards. East used a point count to decide upon his opening bid and rigidly adhered to this point count. Seemingly it added up to enough, but it was this very point count which later caused South's undoing.

2. Slightly optimistic, but justifiable in view of North's free bid.

3. An overbid. North, having bid two clubs freely, should have made the semi-sign-off bid of three clubs, giving partner the option of passing without definite additional values.

West opened the diamond ten, which was properly covered by dummy's queen, and East's king was topped by declarer's ace. South stopped and took stock. He has six possible club tricks if the queen could be picked up, two certain ninth trick in either spades, hearts or diamonds. South was still not certain whether East's opening bid was legitimate or psychic.

To temporize and pick up a ninth trick, South, at trick two, led out a low heart up to dummy's seven. He

RUTH LEADS BRAVES TO VICTORY OVER GIANTS

N.P.A.A.O. Regatta Will Be Staged by J.B.A.A. at Elk Lake This Year

Annual Classic of Rowing Season Is Given to Victoria

Veteran Athletic Association Will Sponsor Big Event on Sheltered Course in Suburban District—Close to Eighty Oarsmen Will Invade City—Meet Is Set for Early in July

Scene of the 1932 N.P.A.A.O. regatta, the sheltered and slowly rippling waters of Elk Lake will come into their own again this year with the staging of the 1935 rowing classic of the Pacific Northwest, about the second or third Friday and Saturday in July.

Word that Victoria had been awarded the event reached here yesterday from S. C. "Bimbo" Sweeney, Vancouver, president of the N.P.A.A.O. Victoria's veteran rowing club, the J.B.A.A., whose members in many decades of active rowing have carved their names deep into the record books in Canadian rowing circles, will stage the event.

Leading oarsmen from Vancouver, Portland, Kelowna, Brentwood College, and the Victoria J.B.A.A. club will be seen in action stroking their shells to victory in this blue-ribbon event.

Providing the regulation Henley course, which measures one mile and 550 yards, Elk Lake is an ideal spot for the regatta, and the course is rated one of the finest on the Pacific Coast. Full view of the course is afforded the spectators, and, as a consequence, they will be able to watch the race from start to finish. This makes the event more interesting to onlookers and oarsmen alike.

N.P.A.A.O. championships in three divisions will be at stake, with three separate titular events in each division. There will be singles, doubles and fours in the junior, senior and tacketweight divisions. In addition, a quarter-mile singles dash is carded, and, if at all possible, an eight-oared race over the regulation Henley course will be included on the attractive programme.

MANY WILL COME

Officials of the J.B.A.A. stated yesterday evening that between seventy-five and eighty visiting

LOS ANGELES STOPPED BY SEATTLE, 3-0

League Leaders Are Finally Halted After Winning Eight Straight Games

COAST LEAGUE

Seattle, aided by the four-hit pitching of Clarence Pickrel, caught up with the fast-moving Los Angeles club yesterday, handing the league leaders their first defeat of the season after eight victories; 3-0. The game was won in the second inning when Mike Hunt drove a home run over the left field wall. Again in the third the Indians scored due to an error by Jimmy Reese and Andy Harrington's single. Bill Lawrence's single in the eighth sent Hunt home with the final run of the ball game.

Pickrel, whom Seattle obtained from the Boston Braves, allowed three of his four hits in the first two innings.

Hollywood joined the Sacramento Senators at Sacramento, 3-2, in a pitching duel between Ed Wells and Art Herring, a pair of ex-big leaguers.

Jimmy Tobin hurled his second win in two starts, this season, as he held Gabby Street's Missions to only six hits, and turned in a 5 to 2 victory for Oakland after a pitchers' duel with the veteran Hollis Thurston.

Port Arthur Bearcats Favored to Even Series With Halifax Wolverines in Series Which Will Decide Dominion Honors

HALIFAX, April 16 (CP).—Those tickets to Berlin, thrown into the Allan Cup this year by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, had Halifax Wolverines and Port Arthur Bearcats dreaming of big liners and beer gardens tonight as they prepared to continue their struggle for the Dominion title.

More confident than ever since their 3-2 victory in the first game last night, the Eastern champions only source of worry was the Nazi salute.

But there was plenty of confidence in the Westerners' camp, too,

COLONIST CUP FINAL IS WON BY VICTORIA

Score Is 3-1 in Overtime Soccer Match With Oak Bay High School

Playing on a wind-swept Oak Bay Park field, Victoria High School "A" soccer eleven yesterday gained possession of the handsome Colonist Cup when they defeated a fighting and aggressive Oak Bay High School eleven, 3-1, after twenty minutes of overtime play. The score at the end of the regulation playing time was 1-1.

Following the match, H. T. Matson, president of The Colonist Printing & Publishing Company, donors of the trophy, handed the cup to Roy Okell, popular captain of the winning eleven.

In making the presentation, Mr. Matson congratulated the teams on their game, and expressed the hope that the cup would encourage the boys to take an added interest in the series.

Oak Bay garnered the only marker of the initial half, when Sid Yates, bustling centre forward, beat M. Hornsby, Victoria goalie, with a low shot in the far corner of the goal, ten minutes after the game commenced.

Victoria High School had a number of excellent scoring chances, but their forwards failed to take advantage of them.

Oak Bay, on the other hand, played a more aggressive game, and were dangerous on a number of occasions.

GOALS SCORED

Play in the final canto favored Victoria High School, but at that it took them exactly thirty-two minutes to net the equalizer and force the fixture into overtime.

George Barnes, playing left half-back for the eventual winners, deserves credit for the goal.

The clever Victoria player sent in a high drive from well outside the penalty area. As the ball bounced back from the crossbar, Doug Gent met it and scored the tying marker.

Oak Bay continued their aggressive play in this stanza and looked exceptionally dangerous on a number of fast breakaways, but the Victoria defence was sound.

Hornsby, in the Victoria goal, was called upon to make some good saves in this final canto.

VICTORIA TAKES LEAD

Victoria High School played their most aggressive football in the initial overtime session, and after one or two close calls, Alec Dallimore, brilliant halfback, gave them a lead, which they never lost when he scored at close range.

Roy Okell, Victoria captain, made it 3-1 shortly before the end of the first extra period.

Battling gamely to the last whistle, Oak Bay fought hard to wipe out this lead, but in vain, and when the final whistle sounded, Victoria High School were on the right end of a 3-1 score.

D. McMillan refereed, and the teams were:

Victoria High School—M. Hornsby, R. Bishop, J. Cosier, N. Brown, D. Gent, A. Dallimore, H. Rowe, R. MacMillan, R. Okell, G. Barnes and H. Thorburn.

Oak Bay High School—G. Sheperd, N. Stewart, C. Appleyard, J. Grogan, M. Murray, B. Murdoch, G. Byatt, J. Fair, S. Yates, M. Ley and F. Holtum.

CRASHES HOMER OFF HUBBELL AS BOSTON DEFEATS GIANTS, 4-2

Famous Bambino Celebrates National League Debut by Hitting for Circuit With One On—Accounts for All of Team's Runs—Dizzy Dean Hurt as Cardinals Go Under

BOSTON, April 16 (AP).—With all the characteristic flamboyance of the great man in a crisis, George Herman "Babe" Ruth, the ancient they waived out of the American League, started life all over again at forty in the National League today. He personally touched off the season for his new mates, the Braves, by slugging Carl Hubbell for a tremendous home run in the fifth inning of the season's opener with New York Giants, driving in or scoring all four of his team's runs, making one circus catch and exhilarating 25,000 fans, five governors and a host of celebrities out of all thoughts of the bitter cold weather.

The Braves beat the Giants 4-2 as far as the ball game as a whole was concerned, but beyond that everything was Ruth.

The Babe killed two birds with two mighty swings of his bat. In the first inning, with Shortstop Bill Urbanski on base, he drove in the Braves' first run with a single that almost flattened Bill Terry on the first-base line. Then he scored the second run himself as singles by Wally Berger, Pinky Whitney and Buster Jordan followed.

Then, after fanning with equal might in the second inning, he smote the blow that clinched things for the day. With Urbanski again on base, the count two and two, the Babe unwound himself at Hubbell's waist-high fast ball on the outside and sailed it far over the right-field wall for his first National League home run, the 724th of his career.

To rub it in further to the critics who have bemoaned his fielding for the past couple of years, the Babe wound up his Hubbell vendetta with an astounding catch of a nasty drive the pitcher slammed over third base. His knees pumping up under his chin, his fat form wobbling, Ruth thundered down the foul line and just did get there in time to rob Hubbell of a hit with a last-second stab.

Cards Are Beaten

CHICAGO, April 16 (AP).—A 4-3 defeat and near-tragedy to the great "Dizzy" Dean, the man who holds their pennant hopes in his right hand, rode with St. Louis Cardinals today as they opened their 1935 flag drive against Chicago Cubs before 15,500 shivering customers.

A hot drive off the bat of Freddie Lindstrom in the first inning caught the Cardinal pitching star above the left ankle, laid him low and he was carried off the field. An X-ray failed to reveal a bone break and it was the opinion of his attending physician and trainer that "Diz" will be back on the firing line within a week.

Dean, whose great pitching arm won thirty games, the National League Pennant and the World Series for the Cardinals last year, was in a jam when he was struck.

PIRATES TROUBLE REDS

CINCINNATI, April 16 (AP).—Routing two pitchers in the seventh, Pittsburgh's Pirates crashed Cincinnati Reds 12-6 before 27,000 fans in the season's opening game today.

Down three runs after the second inning, Reds climbed to even terms in the fifth with the aid of Sam Byrd's home run.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP).—The new model, streamlined New York Yankees, looking important indeed without Babe Ruth in the line-up, yielded to the superb pitching of Wesley Ferrell today in a frigid opening tussle with Boston Red Sox.

The right-hander held the New Yorkers to two hits, outpitched the great Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, the American League's leading flinger, and gained a brilliant 1-0 decision.

Yankees without Ruth were just another ball club.

PATRICK BOYS BACK IN TOWN

Lynn and Murray Arrive Back in City After Winter In the East

"The Maroons were the better club in the Stanley Cup final. They proved that in the final game," stated Lynn Patrick, eldest son of Lester Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers, yesterday upon his arrival in the city from the Eastern metropolis with his brother, Murray. Although Lynn did not see the cup final, as a member of the Rangers he played against the Montreal team in the semi-final round, and knew what he was talking about.

Graduating from the Winnipeg hockey school, originated by his father, Lynn played his first year in major hockey with the New York club, and made a success of it from the start. He garnered twenty-two points during the season, and was one of the most promising rookies of the season, according to Eastern sport scribes. With some of the veteran members of the Rangers due to go, Lynn is more than optimistic about his chances next season, and is hoping to move up to either the first string or second line of attack.

Murray Patrick played amateur hockey during the past winter and, like his eldest brother, has his eye on the professional game in the near future. Both boys were happy to hear about the great drive the Blue Ribbons are making towards another Canadian basketball championship, and will be spectators at tonight's game at the Willows. Lynn and Murray were members of the Ribbons when they won the Dominion crown three seasons ago.

VICTORIA Blue Ribbons will continue their bid for Western basketball supremacy tonight at the Willows when they take the floor against the Winnipeg Toilers in the second game of the series. The Ribbons waited through the visitors in the opener Monday evening by a 53 to 23 score, and should make it two straight over the Toilers, thus earning the right to meet Assumption College, Eastern champions, for the Canadian championship. ASSUMPTION COLLEGE CAPTURES EASTERN CROWN

Defeats Notre Dame Hoop Squad 47 to 21 In Second Fixture

Willie Rogin, Stellar Centre, Pots Twenty-Seven Points in Windsor's Victory Over Montrealers—Will Meet Winners of Ribbons-Tollers Series in Week's Time

WINDSOR, Ont., April 16 (CP).—Behind the remarkable shooting ability of Willie "Moose" Rogin, their husky centre, Assumption College tonight captured the Eastern Canada senior basketball championship by defeating Notre Dame de Grace, of Montreal, 47-21, here.

The massive "Moose" accounted for twenty-seven of the purple total points to win the title almost single-handedly. It was the second successive victory for the winners and placed them in the finals for the national honors, to be played in the West within a week's time.

Notre Dame were completely baffled by their rivals and at half-time trailed 25-10. Fifteen minutes elapsed in the first half before the diminutive Allan Mills counted their first field goal, so tight was the defence of the students.

What made the victory so remarkable was the fact that "Scrubby" Aitchison and "Toots" Meretaky, two of Assumption's aces, not once entered the fray. Father McGee benched them in favor of Bill Byrne and Bob Harrison, two rookies.

Byrne made a distinct hit with his aggressive play, while Harrison's ball-handling under the basket was all that could be desired. The only bright feature of the losers' performance was the foul-shooting of Lew Newton, the huge footballer. The 215-pound forward counted seven times in eight free throws to lead the Montreal marksmen with nine points.

Buster "Red" Allen and Allan Mills strove desperately to stop the purple juggernaut, the former accounting for six points and the latter four.

Coach Ken Grant tried nearly his whole team, at one time or the other, in an effort to find a man capable of checking and stopping the Rogin scoring machine, but the purple centre refused to be halted.

Line-ups follow: Assumption College—Sherman (2), Byrne (5), Rogin (27), Nantis (2), Desjarlais (5), Harrison (6), Galaup, Deboré. Total, 47.

Notre Dame de Grace—Newton (9), Allen (6), Carson (2), Whittall, Mills (4), Pelvis, Morrison, Bowden, Total, 21.

Wenstob in Triumph

MOUNTAIN ASH, Wales, April 16 (CP).—Eddie Wenstob, Edmondston light-heavyweight boxer, registered a one-sided victory over George Brennan, of Derby, former amateur light-heavyweight champion of England.

The bout was scheduled to go fifteen rounds but Wenstob battered Brennan so effectively the referee stopped it at the end of the fourth round.

Earle McCready May Be Secured For Match Here

EARLE "Moose" McCready, Canada's leading aspirant for the world's heavyweight wrestling crown now adorning the brow of Jim Londos, colorful Greek wrestler, will be seen in action at the Tillamook gymnasium Saturday evening, if plans now being advanced by promoter Fred Richardson, local wrestling impresario, materialize. The local match-maker wired McCready yesterday at Seattle, offering him the top spot of the weekly squirm card, and is now awaiting a favorable reply. McCready wrestled Londos at Vancouver about two weeks ago, and the champion gained a one-fall decision after a great match. A former school teacher, the Montreal exponent of the "bone-bending" machine has scored many victories in Pacific Northwest circles, and has a record of six straight wins in Seattle to his credit.

BOAK, WITTER ON NET BODY

Victorians Named on British Columbia Lawn Tennis Association Board

VANCOUVER, April 16 (CP).—P. D. Nicholson, of Bowen Island, was re-elected for his eleventh term as president of the British Columbia Lawn Tennis Association at the organization's annual meeting here.

Dr. E. W. Boak, of Victoria, was named vice-president, and E. V. Young, of North Vancouver, secretary-treasurer.

Julius Griffith, of the Vancouver Lawn Tennis Club, was named honorary president, and A. P. Horne, of Jericho, and H. B. Witter, of Victoria, honorary vice-presidents.

Councillors include: R. J. Pearson, Point Grey; R. H. Phipps, Vancouver; E. J. H. Cardinall, North Vancouver; S. Richards, New Westminster; W. T. Corfield, Duncan; H. G. M. Gardner, Kelowna; H. W. Meach, Jericho, and King Brannel, Jericho.

Only business transacted was a reduction in entry fees to sanctioned tournaments. Previously all players entering sanctioned tournaments were required to pay 25 cents to the B.C.L.T.A. This was reduced where minor tournaments are concerned, to 10 cents.

Major tournaments were designated as the British Columbia clay courts championship, the Western Canada grass championships and the British Columbia grass tourney.

Examinations show Ray Kersey, Keating, well-known local runner, suffered a fractured dislocation of the left hip when he crashed to the floor while playing basketball for the Lake Hill team against Hoyle-Brown players on Monday night at the Willows. He now lies in a plaster cast at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. Kersey, hospital authorities say, may have to remain in bed for two months or more.

He first suffered injury to his hip two weeks ago in a Saanich League basketball game. The fall to the floor Monday night occurred when he collided with other players in an attempt to gain possession of the ball. He was removed from the Willows and taken directly to hospital.

Baer Will Defend Crown on June 13 Against Braddock

Veteran New Jersey Fighter Will Try to Dethrone Californian—Louis and Camera June 25 and McLarnin Will Tackle Ross May 20—Cannonieri Also Signed

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP).—A great boxing revival loomed today for the coming outdoor season as Max Baer accepted Jimmy Braddock as his heavyweight title opponent on June 13, and dates were assigned for a battle between the sensational Joe Louis and Primo Carnera, as well as the third lightweight championship tussle of Jimmy McLarnin and Barney Ross.

Mike Jacobs, head of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, took a lead of 2-to-1 in his promotional war with Madison Square Garden as he snared the McLarnin-Ross engagement for May 20 at the Polo Grounds, and the Louis-Carnera embroglio for the Yankee Stadium, June 25.

The Garden, with Baer tied up, landed the heavyweight title match, but only by conceding the titleholder broadcasting rights to the affair as well as 42 1-2 per cent of the net proceeds.

If Baer wins, the Garden has no holdover contract this time for another fight. Braddock agreed to defend the title for the Garden if he won.

To relieve the lack of a lightweight ruler, the commission decided to recognize the winner of a fifteen-round match, May 10, in the Garden, between Tony Cannonieri, former champion, and Lou Ambros, bounding youngster from Herkimer, N.Y.

Ross resigned from the 135-pound class, no longer able to make the weight.

OFF FOR EAST

VANCOUVER, April 16 (CP).—Welterweight Champion Jimmy McLarnin said he would leave here Thursday for Los Angeles, en route to New York, where he will defend his title against Chicago's Barney Ross, May 20. Jimmy received confirmation tonight that the bout had been arranged, from his manager, Pop Foster, now in New York.

The Vancouver Irishman has plenty of respect for the fighting ability of Ross, to whom he lost his welter crown two years ago, then regained it in a return match a few months later. One thing he intends to do and that is keep his chin as much as possible out of the way of the Ross punches.

"You know," murmured Jimmy, "I always gave Barney credit for hitting hard, and acted accordingly whenever I met him. After watching him pound out a decision over Henry Woods at Seattle, recently, I am more determined than ever that the McLarnin chin is not going to do any more catching than it has to."

"Why don't I try for a knockout in the first round?" Jimmy repeated a reporter's question. "That's an idea. It would save a lot of fooling around, but it takes two to make a knockout, and I don't think Barney would co-operate."

Shade Irregular
At Wall Street

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP).—Stock traders were rather choppy today. A few leaders and specialties got most of the attention, while the balance of the list was quietly irregular.

Chemicals were again favorites. Allied Chemical advanced 4 points to 140. Air Reduction nearly 2 at 116-1/4, and several others gained fractionally.

Oils likewise found a small following, led by a 13-6 point advance in Standard of N.J. at 41-5-8.

Issues able to gain 1 to 2 points or so including Eastman Kodak, Lehman Corporation, Liggett & Myers, B. Glass, Renick & Ford, Standard Oil of Kansas, Superheater and several others of equally varying character.

Amongst Canadian issues Dome Mines, Nickel, Distillers-Seagrams and Ford of Canada were fractionally lower. Dominion Stores and Imperial Tobacco of Canada ruled a little higher.

The bond market succeeded in weathering another sinking spell in railroad loans and worked higher under encouragement of utilities and industrial.

Railroad bonds remained under the spell of random profit taking.

The foreign department was firm.

Sharp Advance Recorded at Chicago—Higher Values Are Predicted

WINNIPEG, April 16 (CP).—Traders here took their cue from Chicago today, and when prices on the Grain Exchange closed with net gains of 1-2c to 5-8c, May at 89-3-4c and July at 90-1-2c to 90-5-8c.

The local advance was more subdued than in the American market, where values were 2-3-8c higher. Exports totaled 250,000 bushels.

J. G. S. Broomhall, noted English grain statistician, commented today:

"The preferential tariff in England on colonial grain is now being felt. With the small Argentine crop restricting offers, prices have advanced."

"If France, Sweden and Black Sea shipments continue to decrease, it may happen importers will be forced to pay the high price asked by Canada."

Cash and coarse grains continued uninteresting.

YELLOW JACK

Yellow Jack, colloquial name for the dread disease yellow fever, tells the tale of the unrelenting fight of science for the protection of peoples against the onslaughts of the unexpected.

Incredible as it may seem, there was a time when vessels upon which yellow fever was raging could come into port without notice, leaving hindrance.

It was only after a long struggle on the part of those who fought for the abatement of public health evils, and the adoption of modern hygiene, lations that there was realized the appalling risks to which communities were exposing themselves by carelessness and indifference.

Then only were there passed laws which required ships on which the plague had broken out, when nearing a port, to fly a yellow flag, thus warning everybody of the peril aboard.

"Jack" being the nautical term for flag, the Yellow Jack became the recognized and official quarantine pennant, as well as the synonym for yellow fever flag, while Yellow Jack became the slang, synonymous phrase for yellow fever.

The Beautiful Derelict

by Evelyn Wells

CHAPTER XV

"Oh, my dear Inspector, don't go off at half-cock!" said Fleming Stone.

"Well," said Cox, "you found these things in Barry's room, and hidden at that. Doesn't that prove Barry had them, with the intent to kill somebody? And who would the boy want to kill? Only someone who was trying to get his girl away from him."

"You don't mean he suspected Elkins Van Zandt of being in love with his girl?"

"We don't know. Who can tell who is in love with which, these days?"

"But Van Zandt, of all men! Probably Miss Jane has lots of suitors; why pick on him? Because he was there on the yacht, I suppose you'll say. Well, that's the last reason to suspect him. Let me tell you this: When you discover the murderer of Barry Wayne, it will be somebody who was not on the yacht at the time those two men met their death."

"Queer talk, Mr. Stone—what they call cryptic, I guess. But I trust you'll remember you promised to tell me whatever you discovered bearing on the crime."

"I certainly remember that, Inspector, and I hope to make good my promise very soon. I have not discovered a single fact that I have not told you."

"All right. And do you keep your eye on the detectable Vera. She's a cute one, and will bear watching. Now, let me see the picture in the room where you found the pellets."

They went to Barry's smokeroom, as he called it. Now, Mr. Fleming Stone was not even as likely as a weasel to be caught asleep, and had himself taken copies of the fingerprints he had found on the glass and the frame of the small picture.

He was not, however, an expert, and though he was careful enough his prints were far from clear and definite. In fact, they were so very amateurish that Stone felt no reason to show them to Cox, especially as that worthy had declared his intention of securing the prints himself, and his experts would, of course, take proper ones.

"What's become of that horrible image?" Cox asked.

"The korawar?" They gave it to Mrs. Mingle. Stone told him, "You know it's a superstitious fetish, or something, and the housekeeper half believes in it. She has it set up in her place, and is waiting for it to speak to her."

Stone paused in front of the picture. Suddenly he cried, "Where are they? Who did it?"

"Who did what?" Cox asked.

"Wiped away all the prints! See, there isn't a sign of them on the glass or on the frame!"

"Whoever left them must have come here later, and wiped them away."

"Not necessarily. They may have been wiped away by a cleaning maid or a houseman."

"Yes, they might. It's a pity they're gone; they would have been a good clue."

"A very good one. As it stands, we only know that someone took hold of the picture, put the pellets behind it, and left it hanging a trifle crooked. What does that suggest to you, Inspector?"

"Only that the murderer of Van Zandt put them there after he had used one for his dreadful purpose. And, consequently, that the finding of them, here in Barry's room, shows that Barry did kill Van Zandt, after all. I picked up from some of the servants that Barry was sweet on that siren woman, Vera."

"And when he found he had to take Van Zandt in his yacht, he thought it a good opportunity to kill him so he could marry his widow? And what was to happen to Jane Holt?"

"When a young man kills another man because he wants to marry his widow, he doesn't stop to think what happens to his current sweetheart. Young men are like that now. Barry was tired of Jane, and was keen for the lovely charmer with the long, glittering eyes. So he set to work to get her, and found it no very difficult matter."

"Well, Inspector, you amaze me. Now it seems to me a totally different story. Barry was a smart lad, from all I've heard; I mean an intellectual chap, with a clever and ingenious brain. He could have concocted this diabolical scheme, but he didn't. The murderer planted those poison tablets where I found them so Barry would be suspected."

Cox sniffed at this, but Stone went on. "Barry was too smart, too far-sighted to let himself in as a suspect—if he did do the deed. He was far too clever to leave a picture in his own room hanging crookedly, because of a great bulge behind it—like he did do the deed. But a criminal, planting those things, to make trouble for Barry, would of course leave the picture out of plumb to attract attention, and leave the parcel of poison there, where it would surely be found."

"You think this? Then it's probably true," Cox said, always ready to subscribe to Stone's opinions.

"I do. But we must remember that the criminal, whoever he is, is extraordinarily clever, and can bamboozle us into thinking black is white."

"Well, you must admit now that the criminal is some one in the house. How else could he go about unnoticed?"

"Some one's coming," Stone said suddenly, and looked up to see Rod Campion in the doorway.

"Am I intruding?" a pleasant voice asked, and Cox introduced the two men. Stone had never met Campion before, and there was admiration in the glance he cast at the blond giant. A Viking type, Rod's big blue eyes and bronzed-gold hair, combined with a most engaging smile, commanded immediate interest.

"Are you a carpenter?" Stone asked, noting a fine saw and a T-square under his arm.

"I would be, if Uncle Pat would let me," and Campion smiled. "But every time I use his tools he says I spoil their edges, or bend or break them, although really I do nothing of the sort!"

"Look here," said Stone, "I'm getting mixed up. First, they told me that Mr. Dan was the wonderful handy man, with a fully-fitted carpenter shop and all. He told me himself he mended things all over the house for Ming or anybody. Now, you're all acclaiming Mr. Pat, though he has only a chest of tools."

"But such a chest!" Rod exclaimed. "Such tools! If I didn't spoil them, they'd be the finest set in the country, I do believe!"

"Why do you spoil them?" Stone inquired. Hezekiah told me you are a fine handy man. He was sitting in a chair you had retrieved and mended."

"That's just it!" and Rod smiled his captivating grin. "Uncle Dan and I are handy men about the house—that's just what we are, but Uncle Pat is not only a carpenter but a magician. The gadgets he can turn out! The beautiful cabinet work he can do! The gimcracks he can make! He can take a Chinese pagoda and copy it so you can't tell 'em apart. He's an artist, that's what he is."

"Are you related to him?" Stone asked, interestedly.

"No, not at all. But I'm with him a lot, and he lets me call him that."

"You and Barry been friends a long time?"

"Yes, Mr. Stone, and we were friends, too. Don't you believe these things they're saying about me and Barry being at odds."

"But you sometimes had—er—spats?"

"Who told you that, Mr. Stone?"

"I see no reason why I shouldn't tell you that. Mrs. Mingle did."

"Oh, that's all right, then. But don't listen to it from anyone else. Old Ming's mind is back in the past, and she remembers our childish quarrels. They were short, but very fierce, and sometimes Ming had to patch us up a bit. But we put aside childish things some years ago. Of late, we've had no bickering, no disagreements."

"Not about the girls?"

"Ah, Ming put you up to that! Well, now and then, we each want the same girl, but we always fix it up amicably. Oh, I keep forgetting he's dead! I simply can't realize it. Well, I came over here to see if I could stick around and make the place less dreary for them to come home to. Don't you know how lonely and bleak a house seems after returning from a funeral? I figured if we had a roaring fire on the hearth in the common room, and smoking things around, and maybe some tea or something hot, it would be cheery. I'll go down and fix it up with the servants that are down there. Most of them went to the services."

"Didn't you?" Cox asked.

"Yes, sir, but I slipped out ahead of the crowd."

"Wait a minute, Rod," Cox detained him. "Were you on the Mad Anthony that morning she sailed?"

"I didn't go out with them from here, sir."

"I know you didn't," and Cox glared at him. "But were you on the boat before she started, before Barry and Van went aboard?"

"Why, no," and Rod looked puzzled.

"Think again, boy," Cox said, not unkindly.

"Oh, you mean when Barry wasn't there? Hadn't come down yet. Yes, I was at the yacht club, and I sauntered down to the yard to see the club boats. The Mad Anthony was there, and golly, she looked splendid! Have they got her back yet?"

"No," the inspector said, sternly. "But never mind that now. Did you go on board?"

"What if I did?" and Rod's lower lip quivered, a sure sign of worry with him.

"Nothing much," Stone intervened. "We're just collecting data, and you can fill in a little."

"I don't know anything to fill in with."

"Why did you go on board?" Stone urged him.

"I went to see if Jane Holt was there."

"Didn't you know the men weren't on board?"

"I wasn't sure. Rodney was regaining his swagger air. 'And I didn't care whether they were or not, if Jane was there.'"

"And no one was on the yacht?"

"Nobody at all."

"What did you do?"

"I poked about a bit, admiring the fittings of the craft, and especially my own bits of handiwork."

"What were they?" Stone inquired.

"Just some little tricks like a way to open the refrigerator with your foot, and a chute sort of thing that propelled waste stuff down and out to the sea. It's my hobby to make such things as that."

"A mighty convenient hobby," Stone said. "And here are the cars coming in. Let's go down to greet the crowd."

Rodney was as good as his word. He chatted cooly with Jane and Vera; he talked with respect and sympathy to the Wayne brothers, he was cordial to Steve Holt and friendly with Ming.

At last, without seeming to do so, Stone managed to get Pat Wayne alone in his laboratory.

You can leave a stone in the water all day...

- It cannot dissolve... it will do nothing... but you can depend upon it to "last."
- Most soaps are like that... hard and "lasting." But this "lasting" quality is deceptive. It means rubbing and rubbing to get suds.
- Suds should come quickly and easily... as Sunlight suds do. Sunlight is all pure soap. It is purposely made to dissolve freely. No need to rub hard with a bar of Sunlight to get suds... and as for leaving Sunlight Soap in the water—that's unnecessary—even wasteful.
- Yet because Sunlight is all pure soap it is more economical... for bar for bar it washes more clothes than common soaps.
- Do you wonder that millions of women the world over who have grown impatient with low quality soaps... now use Sunlight... and never again could be content with any other soap?
- Then look for the $5,000 Sunlight Guarantee of Purity. It means real economy—longer life to your clothes—protection to your hands.
